

The twentieth century was a time of great conflict both within and outside of Australia and was a critical period in our social, cultural, economic and political development. As an historian, you will investigate the ways in which Australia developed as a member of the global community, especially in the Asia Pacific region. You will delve into issues that range from the fight for rights and freedoms within Australia, our role in global wars as well as the growing influence that our contributions to popular culture has had nationally and internationally.

Year 10 Core Subject & Additional Semester Elective

 Engage Skills	 Extend Knowledge	 Enrich Experiences
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Chronology, terms and concepts • Historical questions and research • Analysis and use of sources • Perspectives and interpretations • Explanations and communication 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Causes, events, outcomes and broader impact of WWII as an episode in world history and the nature of Australia's involvement • The struggle for human rights: how rights and freedoms have been ignored, demanded or achieved in Australia and in the broader world context • The impact, experience and contribution of migration to Australia post-WWII • The changing nature of pop culture in Australia including the influence of, and our contribution to, international popular culture 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Entry to the National History Challenge • Guest speakers • Excursion opportunities • University links (guest speaker, university visits)

 Assessments/Outcomes	 Pathways
Sources Analysis, Historical Research Essay, Empathy Task, Semester Examination	Career pathways: Historian, archivist, author, gallery or museum curator, parliamentarian, solicitor, archaeologist, anthropologist research and development manager, policy analyst, journalist, international law and politics, intelligence officer, judge, novelist, teacher.